Monthly Update

March 2022

As a response to the attack by the Russian military on Ukraine, supported by Belarus, the European Union has put an array of sanctions into place. These greatly impact international trade and travel between Russia, Belarus and EU member states and, of course, the European pellet market. This, in turn, also affects the ENplus[®] certification scheme. Under the given circumstances, Bioenergy Europe is unable to continue the ENplus[®] certification scheme in the Russian Federation and Belarus and is therefore impelled to suspend the certified companies in these 2 countries until further notice. Read more about it here.

In line with the invasion of Ukraine, ENplus[®] introduces the War Zone Guidance. Read more about it here.

Our very own Simon Lavergne will be attending the BioExpo on the 31st of March with a presentation on the upcoming scheme revision. Read more about this event!

The 21st Auditor's Training will be taking place the 27th and 28th of April and is organised for auditors of inspection bodies who want to perform ENplus[®] related audits of pellet production plants and pellet trader facilities. Participation in this training is considered adequate proof of qualification for persons intending to audit pellet plants. See the full agenda.
